"We were excited to relocate into our new office. However, it required a lot of coordination and resources from our staff. Thanks to IT Innovators experience and project management, we didn't need to worry about our computer systems, electrical, or Internet vendor coordination. They stayed on top of our project for a smooth move."

Louis Barajas, President

Business Need:

Louis Barajas Wealth Planning had outgrown their old suite and needed to move the company to a new location. They knew this would involve moving all of their current IT equipment as well as setup new services for phones and internet in their new offices. They also knew that they needed help figuring out the best location for the current server, new cabling and electrical as well. So they contacted IT Innovators, their IT partner, so together we could make the best decisions on what would work best for them and save them money.

Solution:

IT Innovators helped Louis Barajas by getting involved in the decision making process of all aspects of the move. Everything from the wiring in the new office (phone & computer), location of the new server, electrical drops, coordinating with their phone vendor & T1 vendor, etc. IT Innovators worked with the building management to help insure coordination of the move went smooth. IT also helped Louis understand his choices and gave him options to help save money along the way.

Benefits:

Louis experienced many benefits through leveraging the resources and experience of his IT team and partner, IT Innovators. They key was involving them from the very beginning. Among the benefits, a smooth move with no unexpected down-time, a needed rack to hold his network investment, and a professional look to share with his clients. Louis saved over $1,700 just on electrical drops alone working with IT. Most important he was able to offload large and time consuming task to his IT partner so he could focus on his business.
